CASE ID: 199712710002
EPISODE NAME: China Imposes Anti-Dumping Duties on Imported Newsprint (US)
1997/12/11 - 2009/06/30
Sender: China (710)
Target: United States of America (2)
Issue: Trade Practices (13)
Final Outcome: Stalemate after Sanctions Imposition (9)

Summary:

On 1998/06/10, China imposed 9-78 percent tariffs on paper products from South Korea, Canada, and the United States.[1] The tariffs were a result of an anti-dumping investigation and served to protect China's domestic newsprint industry.[2] The tariffs were lifted on 2009/06/30.[3]

Narrative:

On 1997/12/11, the Chinese Foreign Trade Ministry threatened the imposition of tariffs ranging from 9-78 percent on paper products from the United States, Canada, and South Korea.[4] These tariffs were declared on the grounds of alleged dumping, accusing the mentioned countries of selling paper and newsprint in China at prices below international rates.[5] The tariffs took effect on 1998/06/10.[6] This was the first time that China had imposed anti-dumping measures, making the case a focus of attention in Chinese industrial and legal circles.[7]

The tariffs were originally scheduled to last for five years. On 2003/05/09, Chinese newsprint producers requested that the Chinese Ministry of Commerce review the trade restrictions, and they were extended for an additional five years.[8]

---

[1] "China Turns the Page on Paper Tariffs." e-To-China, July 2nd, 2009. https://www.e-to-china.com/tariff_changes/Industry_Influence/2009/0702/56370.html.
[2] Ibid.
[3] "China scraps anti-dumping duty on newsprint imports." Reuters, June 29th, 2009. https://www.reuters.com/article/china-economy-dumping-idUSPEK5517720090630.
[4] Lu, Zhang. "Learning to Use WTO Rules for Protection." China Daily, July 6th, 2004. https://www.chinadaily.com.cn/english/doc/2004-07/06/content_345959.htm
[5] Ibid.
[6] Ibid.
[7] "China scraps anti-dumping duty on newsprint imports." Reuters, June 29th, 2009. https://www.reuters.com/article/china-economy-dumping-idUSPEK5517720090630.
[8] Lu, Zhang. "Learning to Use WTO Rules for Protection." China Daily, July 6th, 2004. https://www.chinadaily.com.cn/english/doc/2004-07/06/content_345959.htm.

The tariffs were lifted on 2009/06/30.[9] The Chinese newsprint industry had reportedly progressed to the point that it could compete with foreign companies. Growing demand for paper also impacted the decision.[10]

[9] "China scraps anti-dumping duty on newsprint imports." Reuters, June 29th, 2009. https://www.reuters.com/article/china-economy-dumping-idUSPEK5517720090630.
[10] "China Turns the Page on Paper Tariffs." e-To-China, July 2nd, 2009. https://www.e-to-china.com/tariff_changes/Industry_Influence/2009/0702/56370.html.